“Joseph” is a nice, solid three-year old gelding who stands at 14.3 hands. He is sweet, willing and friendly with a mellow disposition. Joe has a real kind eye, a good mind and always wants to please. He has ponied another horse, been ponied, is hobble broke and handles it all very well. With good feet, Joe has no problem going barefoot and is sure-footed. Joe has a natural nice way of going, moves with collection and is a heck of a good stopper. He loves to travel out of the arena and is very confident outside. Joe livens up to a cow, does not mind his rider doing rope work off him and would make an excellent ranch horse who can go all day long. Joseph is a willing partner who will happily take you anywhere.

About the Rider: Christina Perry

Christina has been attending FRC since Summer 2009 and will graduate this semester with certificates in Ranch Skills and Horse training. She grew up doing ranch work and had not spent much time in an arena until she came here. Christina plans on going to work for a cow outfit in Idaho and starting colts on the side. It is her goal to “combine what she learned here with her own methods to make some fine-handling, smooth as silk bridle horses.”
