"Surfer" is a three year old sorrel gelding who is a great ranch horse that loves a job. This horse "wants to work". With no trouble loading in a trailer he will go anywhere you want to take him. This is an ideal ranch horse or recreational horse who will not let you down. He has been down the trail, through creeks, over water, and right into willows. We have spent a lot of time in the arena where roll-backs, turns, and canter departures come with ease. Point and he'll get you there; this horse loves a loose rein and responds to your leg aids.

About the Rider: Adam Craven

This is Adam's first semester as an Equine Studies major at FRC. He hopes to develop and improve his skills as a horse trainer and find ways to make himself marketable in the equine industry. Adam's goals for the future include training cutting and reining horses and to show horses in the snaffle bit. "Who knew you could actually go to college for this stuff?"
